This delightful book features a young girl and her doll as they plan for and spend a special day at the beach. It is the second story in the Dolly Adventure series for children ages three and up written by Alison Lynne. The author writes from experiences with her own daughter. The story shows how a little girl teaches the things she's been taught about life to her dolly. The deep truth of a child's relationship with their dolly is the underlying seed behind this book. From putting on sunscreen lotion and wearing a hat to throwing away trash and building sandcastles, the book is an engaging story. It comes with doll-sized sparkly pink bathing suit and sun hat ensemble plus a rainbow beach towel. The clothing has been designed to fit most dolls. Your child will build good communication skills and learn about friendship with this book.
